Wildlife Resources Vs. City

Fish Kill Trial Is Expected Tuesday

A suit involving the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources and the city of Murray over an alleged fish kill in the fall of 1976 is expected to come to trial Tuesday.

Calloway County Circuit Judge James Lassiter said Wednesday that both the plaintiff, the state of Kentucky and the department of fish and wildlife resources, and the defendants, the city of Murray and the common council in office last year indicated they are ready for trial. Petit jury selection should begin early Tuesday morning in Calloway County Circuit Court. Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources sued the city in May, 1977, over an alleged fish kill the department first learned about in September, 1976. The department asked $5,052 damages in the original suit.

Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources asked the city to pay for fish which the department claimed died in Clarks River, alleging a fault in the city's sewage treatment plant.

After the Murray City Council refused to pay a bill for the alleged kill in May, 1977, the department sued the city.

The department alleged, in the original suit and motions filed later, that "over 14,000 fish and other forms of aquatic life were killed," including longear sunfish, green sunfish, yellow perch, bluegill, carp, spotted suckers, white suckers, crappie, largemouth bass, pirate perch and drum fish.

The suit claims the alleged contamination occurred the city of Murray's lift station on Bee Creek, Clarks River, some five miles downstream.

Murray City Attorney William "Bill" Phillips will represent the city while Paul Gaines, an attorney for the fish and wildlife resources department, is expected to represent the state.

A number of persons named as defendants in the original suit are no longer in office or hold other city offices. Ex-mayor John Ed. Scott is named in the original suit along with Lloyd Arnold, H. Ed Chrisman, William R. Furches, Ruby Hale, Melvin Henley, who now sits in the mayor's chair, Howard Koenen, Art Lee, C. C. Lowry, Woodrow Rockman, Hugh T. Rushing, Buell Stalls Jr. and Dave Wells (sic, apparently Willis).

READY FOR AUCTION — Kenny Collins (left) and Rodger Mathis, with Calloway County Fire and Rescue Squad, stand among a few items that will be auctioned off in a special fund raising sale at the squad fire station Friday. Funds from the sale will be used to buy a new fire truck. The squad will accept items for the sale until noon Friday. Anyone wanting further information about the sale or who have items to be donated for the fire truck can call the Fire Control Center in Murray, 753-4112.

Eddyville Warden Claims Mail Inspection Rules Are Justified

By T.G. MOORE

Associated Press Writer

EDDYVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A new policy which allows the opening and inspection of outgoing mail from Kentucky State Penitentiary inmates is justified because of past abuses of involving narcotics, escape plans and "ripoffs," says Warden Donald Bordenkircher.

But the new mail rules anger prisoners who say they now are unfairly restricted in their access to family, friends and attorneys.

Bordenkircher, in a recent interview at the 98-year-old maximum security prison, said penitentiary officials "prepared long before the new (policy) a preponderance of data and fact to substantiate any claim we might have for narcotics, escape, ripoffs of the public or the inmate. We had to show an absolute cause to even discuss the changes we thought should be made."

The new mail policy took effect at KSP on April 1. It replaced one that had been in effect since 1973 which prohibited inspection, censorship or reading of outgoing inmate mail.

Now, outgoing mail may not be sealed. It may be read by prison officials and rejected if it contains: threats of physical harm, blackmail or extortion, contraband, code, escape plans, solicitations of gifts from persons other than family or threats to security.

Incoming mail has been routinely inspected for several years at the prison.

The 1973 policy resulted from a Bureau of Corrections interpretation of a U.S. District Court order stemming from an inmate's lawsuit.

Hospital Wins Merit Award

Murray-Calloway County Hospital has received an Award of Merit in the 1978 Kentucky Hospital Public Relations Awards Program, according to an announcement by William S. Conn, Jr., executive director of the Kentucky Hospital Association, whose organization sponsors the annual recognition program.

The award was for "Employee Relations Campaign" which was submitted by Kathy M. Hodge, Director of Public Relations. Murray-Calloway County Hospital's entry was judged in competition with hospitals of 75-200 beds.

A certificate will be presented to the hospital in special ceremonies at the KHA Annual Convention on May 8-10 at the Galt House in Louisville. J. Stuart Poston is administrator at Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

There were more than 40 entries this year in the annual program according to Conn. Judging is based upon creativity, initiative, use of Public Relations media and activities.

'Spring Forward'

Daylight Saving Time Begins This Sunday

By LEE BYRD
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Question, fair reader. Which government department gives us the time of day? Answer: The Department of Transportation.

Ah, but we get ahead of ourselves. As most of us must, by exactly one hour. The government programs its own version of 60 Minutes on two Sundays each year, one to give and one to take away.

This coming Sunday, it takes away. Maybe you lose an hour's sleep, get to church late, things like that.

Here's the official release from the Department of Transportation:

"Daylight saving time is returning. At 2 a.m. Sunday, April 30, clocks should be moved forward one hour to begin six months of daylight saving time."

"Under the Uniform Time Act, which DOT administers, daylight saving time is observed in the United States and its territories from the last Sunday in April until the last Sunday in October, which this year is Oct. 29.

"That is, unless you live in Arizona, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, Virgin Islands, American Samoa or that portion of Indiana within the Eastern Time Zone. These areas don't observe daylight saving time during any period of the year."

ESSAY WINNERS—Deborah Ann Darnell, right, of Murray High School, was the first place winner of the annual Civitan Citizenship Essay Contest and was presented with a cash award by the Murray Civitan Club, sponsor of the contest in the local school systems. Mark Etherton was the supervising teacher for Miss Darnell at Murray High. Second Place went to Luana Colson, left, of Calloway County High School and her supervising teacher was Mrs. Betty Riley. The local winning essay will be entered in a state and national essay contest. The theme of the essay dealt with the value of education in the development of effective citizens in this country.

Motorists To Face Stiffer Fines

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The requirement for annual vehicle inspections has been eliminated, saving Kentucky motorists the $2 fee, but there's one catch: Motorists will face stiffer fines for vehicle defects after June 19.

State Police say they plan to step up inspections, and that they will focus on the defects themselves instead of on whether the vehicle's inspection sticker has expired.

That places the burden squarely on the owner to see that his automobile or truck is in good working order.

"The inspection sticker will no longer serve as a defense," State Police Commissioner Ken Brandenburg said in a telephone interview.

The 1978 General Assembly abolished annual inspections, but at the same time raised fines for a wide range of traffic violations, including speeding.

Under the old inspection system, police were likely to give a motorist a warning rather than a citation for a vehicle defect such as a burned-out headlight or defective tail or signal lights, so long as he had a valid inspection sticker, Brandenburg said.

Now however, police may be more inclined to write a citation than give a warning, he said. It would be up to the individual officer in each case.

When the new law takes effect in two months, nearly all traffic fines will increase by $15. The extra money will go into the state treasury to fund a police pay incentive program for officers who complete special training.

Bill Thurman, staff attorney for Kentucky's Administrative Office of the Courts, said fines will increase by $15 for the vast majority of traffic violations, such as running a stop sign or careless driving, which now involve minimum fines of $10 plus court costs of $27.50.

Beth Boston Named Merit Scholar Today

Beth Boston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fil Boston of 305 N. Seventh St. Murray, is one of 15 students in Kentucky to receive a National Merit Scholarship award today.

Miss Boston is the second Murray High School student to receive a Merit scholarship in recent weeks. The corporation awarded Bruce Horning, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Horning, 1705 Holiday Drive, Murray, a four year corporate sponsored scholarship April 13.

Rockwell International sponsored Miss Boston's scholarship.

The Murray High senior is also one of 750 students nationwide being considered as a Presidential Scholar, which honors the nation's most intellectually distinguished and accomplished graduating high school seniors.

Miss Boston plans to study systems engineering in college. At Murray High Miss Boston has been a member of the Math Team for two years. In Spanish she won the highest award for third year Spanish students last year. She was the Kentucky representative to the American Private Enterprise Seminar at Texas A & M University last summer, winning a $600 scholarship at that seminar. She is also a school newspaper feature writer and yearbook feature writer.

National Merit $1000 Scholarships are one-time, nonrenewable awards. Each winner will receive a single payment of $1,000 next fall after enrolling in the regionally accredited U. S. college or university of the student's choice. Most of the unrestricted "National" awards are underwritten by corporations, foundations, and business organizations that also support four-year scholarships that are designated for students who meet preferential criteria.

National Merit Scholarship Corporation is an independent, nonprofit organization established in 1955 to administer the annual National Merit Scholarship Program — a nationwide academic talent search in which over 16 million high school students have participated since 1956. NMSC's resources and efforts are devoted exclusively to scholarship activities. The Merit Program was initiated with substantial grants from the Ford Foundation.

Post Office Returns To Regular Hours

Fred Jackson, officer-in-charge of the Murray Postoffice has announced that due to the emergency energy crisis being subsided that adjustments in the levels of service at the local postoffice will be made.

Beginning Monday, May 1, the service windows of the local postoffice will be open from 8:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Monday through Friday, and from 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon on Saturday, providing an additional thirty minutes of window service each week day.

Jackson said the lobby will remain open twenty-four hours a day, seven days a week. During the emergency energy crisis changes in the opening of the lobby and the service windows were made.

The officer-in-charge said, however, that it should be noted that the last dispatch of mail from Murray will still be at 5:00 p. m., and the cut-off time to make this dispatch at the main postoffice is at 4:45 p. m.

Jackson said persons mailing letters, etc., in a collection box in other places of the city should check the times on the box to insure that they have not missed the last collection of the day.

Mayor Bills L & N For Cost Of Train Derailment Here

Murray Mayor Melvin Henley has billed L & N Railroad's Nashville offices for $209 worth of expenses he says the city incurred during a train derailment here last weekend.

The derailment near Kengas propane storage facility and Hutson Chemical on Industrial Road early Saturday morning led to some anxious moments here because a tank car was loaded with highly flammable and toxic carbon bisulfide.

Murray Police Department, fire department and Calloway County Fire and Rescue Squad sealed off and patrolled an area several hundred yards around the derailment.

Train workers maneuvered the tank car back on the tracks shortly after noon Saturday.

Henley said the statement covers extra overtime paid to policemen and firemen during the 12 hour period.

"We're billing them for time which we wouldn't have had to pay for otherwise...whatever our expenses were over the normal working hours," Henley said today.

Henley said he doesn't know if L & N will honor the statement. "They might not pay but it wasn't because they didn't get a bill," Henley said.

Unwrap and Rewrap?

When you bring your favorite beef cuts home from the market, take proper care of them to insure safe storage. The transparent wrap on packaged meat is fine for short storage. It is designed for maintaining the quality of meat for refrigerator storage for one to two days. For longer storage, overwrap or rewrap beef cuts in freezer paper and store in the freezer at 0°F. or less, advises the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

Miller-Haverstock Vows Solemnized At Church

In a beautiful candlelight ceremony, Miss Marcia Gaye Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Tipton Miller, Murray, became the bride of Van Dusen Haverstock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer J. Haverstock, of Mansfield, Ohio, on Saturday, March fourth at 6:30 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Murray. The Rev. Dr. Samuel E. Dodson officiated.

As guests assembled, Mrs. John Bowker presented a program of organ music, including "Prelude on O Perfect Love," Barnby-Martin; "Meditation," Bach-Gounod; "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," Bach; and "God Gave Me You," Kaiser-Page.

The ceremony began with the candle lighting by Dayton Lasater and Jim Berrill as the organist played Bohm-Kemmer's "Calm as the Night."

Three vocal solos by Mrs. Vernon Shown were D'Haddet's "Because," Livingston's "The Twelfth of Nover," and, at the end of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte. Other organ selections included "Lara's Theme," Jarre; "Wedding Bells," Peele; Purcell's "Trumpet Voluntary," and the traditional Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin by Wagner and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The vows were exchanged at the altar under a canopy of emerald green jade leaves crowned with a cascade of white snapdragons, fuji mums, heather and gardenias.

The family pews were marked with hurricane lamps, with Amazon lilies, heather, and smilax tied with white satin bows. Other pews throughout the church were decorated with burning tapers in brass lamps entwined with baby's breath, heather, and miniature carnations.

Bride's Dress
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white English net and chiffon styled with a Victorian neck and empire bodice of Alecon lace accented with crystal beads and seed pearls. Bishop sleeves of lace overlaid with softly gathered chiffon were caught at the wrist with a wide band of alecon lace embroidered with crystal beads and pearls. The A-line skirt fell into a chapel train and both were enhanced with a deep border of matching lace. The matching veil of French illusion was banded with white satin and attached to a Juliet cap of silk flowers.

She carried a cascade of phalaenopsis orchids, stephanotis, baby's breath, and amazon lilies softly draped with a cathedral strand of pearls and tied with satin streamers caught in love knots.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Julie Whitford, of Murray. Bridesmaids were Miss Karen Kennedy, Miss Beverly Parker, Mrs. Rick Miller, Miss Lisa McReynolds, all of

Mrs. Van Dusen Haverstock

Murray: Mrs. Albert Beth, Nashville, Tenn.; and Miss Karen Miller, Henderson.

The attendants wore identical gowns of silk chiffon in persimmon fashioned with a halter neckline and soft collar falling into an elbow length cape. The A-line skirt featured three wrap circle tiers. Their headpieces were of amazon lilies, rubrum, smilax, and were centered with a sonia rose. They carried cascade bouquets of matching flowers.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Miller, wore a formal gown of aquamarine matte jersey overlaid with a chiffon floor length scarf. The neckline and long sleeves were accented with crystal beads.

Mrs. Haverstock, mother of the groom, wore a formal gown of twilight blue lace fashioned with an empire bodice and A-line skirt bordered with matching lace.

Harold Doran of Murray served the groom as best man. The groomsmen were Gary Haverstock, Rick Miller, and Dayton Lasater, all of Murray; Ron Haverstock, Indianapolis, Ind.; David Jolley, Hershey, Pa.; Jim Berrill, Lexington.

Ushers were Ken Kadel, St. Louis, Mo.; Doug Bennington, New York, and Flip Vogel, Hartford, Conn.

Registering the wedding guests were Miss Nancy Sills, Dover, Tenn., and Miss Donna McCord, Murray. Director of the wedding was Mrs. Allen Russell.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony, a buffet reception was held at the Murray Woman's Club.

The buffet table was centered with a silver, five tiered, mock fountain of flowers of amazon lilies, sonia roses, lady slipper orchids, cattleya, smilax, and baby's breath. On either end of the table, seven branched candelabra, entwined with smilax and cattleya orchids, were used.

The bride's table was overlaid with a three tiered, white eyelet cloth and centered with a five tiered wedding cake decorated with fresh flowers.

Individual tables were overlaid with eyelet cloths decorated with hurricane lamps and fresh flowers were used throughout the room.

Rice bags were distributed to the guests by Miss Kaylin Haverstock, niece of the groom.

Hostesses of the reception were Mrs. John Quattermoss, Mrs. Tommye Taylor, and Mrs. Marshall Garland. They were assisted by Mrs. Gary Haverstock, Miss Becky Wilson, Mrs. Bill Swift, Miss Beverly Robinson, and Miss Lisa Russell, all of Murray; Miss Trina Habecker, Washington, Ill.; Miss Jamie Frank, Central City; Mrs. Red Pryer, Paducah.

Following the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Sarasota, Florida. The bride wore a two piece navy, lightweight wool, gabardine suit fashioned with dirndl skirt and crop jacket. Her accessories were camel.

Mr. and Mrs. Haverstock are now at home in Murray, where Mr. Haverstock is associated with Purdum and Thurman Insurance and Mrs. Haverstock is employed at The Place.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Haverstock, Huntington, Pa.; Mrs. Elmer C. Haverstock and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Innes, York, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Harold High, Clearwater, Fla.; Gary Kleinman, Delaware, Ohio; Tom Jolly, Columbus, Ohio; Bob Walton, Marion, Ohio; Bob Eadie, Vance AFB, Okla.; Dave Crandall, Iowa University, Iowa; Doug Moore, Trenton, N. J.; Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Sills, Dover, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Robbins Mitchell and Miss Meg Mitchell, Paris, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. David Alexander, Lexington; Mr. and Mrs. May Miller and Frank Miller, Benton; Edwin McIntyre, Calvert City; Rod Pryer, Paducah; Albert Beth, Nashville, Tenn.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Haverstock of Mansfield, Ohio, parents of the groom, hosted the rehearsal dinner for the bridal party held at the University Branch of the Bank of Murray.

Vinnie, Ream, Hoxie was the first woman to sculpt a statue for the Capitol building in Washington. Paid $10,000 after Lincoln's assassination, she said the only complaint she ever got was that Lincoln looked better in her statue than in real life.

'Good' Girl Gets Bad Reputation

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1978 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a normal 16-year-old girl with very strict parents. The only time I get away from home is to spend the weekend with my girlfriend, and then I run with a pretty wild crowd. I've never been busted for pot or gone all the way with a guy, but most of my girlfriends have, and I know that a girl is judged by the company she keeps. I finally got a date with a decent boy for a change, and I acted as nice as I knew how. All he got from me was a good-night kiss. After two dates, he stopped calling me. He must have heard about my reputation and it scared him off.

Abby, how can I let him know that I'm really not that bad and that I have a bad reputation only because of my friends? I like him very much and wonder if you can help me get him back?

BROWN EYES BLUE

DEAR BLUE: Unfortunately, a reputation can be damaged overnight, but it can't be repaired that fast. You earned your reputation, so now you'd better set about living it down and building up a new one.

Only by consistent good behavior and strictly staying away from "bad" company can you prove to people that you aren't the kind of girl they thought you were.

DEAR ABBY: We were given a dog as a gift, and everything is just fine, except for one matter.

After we have dinner, my husband gives the dog his plate to lick clean.

I think this is a disgusting practice that could be dangerous to our health. My husband says that as long as all the dishes go into the automatic dishwasher and are rinsed in boiling water, it doesn't make any difference. What do you think about this?

SQUEAMISH

DEAR SQUEAMISH: Tell your husband that if "it doesn't make any difference," you'd just as soon have your own dishes and let the dog have his.

DEAR ABBY: Tom and I have been married for two years. (No kids.) Another young couple moved in near us, and we liked them at first. But once I got to know the fellow (I'll call him Frank), my feelings changed.

Frank is the type who never stays home. Of course, it was none of my business, except when he started coming over here and getting Tom to go with him. I finally found out where they went when the two of them took off—they would steal, just for the fun of it. Or rather Frank would do the actual stealing and my husband would "help" him. Frank sells this stuff, and he and Tom split the profit.

Tom never stole a thing before he met Frank. I told my husband if he got caught, he would be as guilty as Frank, but he doesn't believe me. I also told him I hate Frank, but he said Frank is his friend, not mine. I worry all the time, but there is nothing I can do. Please help me.

TOM'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Tell your husband to choose between his friendship with Frank and his marriage to you. And if he chooses Frank, consider yourself lucky to be rid of a bad deal before there are children to consider.

If you put off writing letters because you don't know what to say, get Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters For All Occasions." Send $1 and a long, stamped (24 cents) envelope to Abby: 132 Lasky Drive, Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1978

What kind of day will tomorrow be? To find out what the stars say, read the forecast given for your birth sign.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Your innate perceptiveness will improve a great asset now. Through it, you will get a brand new slant on a puzzling job situation.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

An auspicious period. If you cooperate smartly, you can make up for any lost time and break through any new barriers to attainment. Personal relationships highly favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

All may not go exactly as you desire, but you will find many advantages, anyway — if you look carefully in all areas.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Influences somewhat adverse. If certain negotiations are pending, try to postpone decisions until Monday, when aspects will be more propitious.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Turbulent waters in some areas, but you are made of the stuff that doesn't collapse at the first sign of opposition or difficulty. Be your philosophical self.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Don't hesitate to take up apprenticeship in something new if it is worthwhile, no matter what your age. No one has a monopoly on self-improvement.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Make your schedule a flexible one. There are possibilities of changes and variations in certain situations — all promising to be beneficial.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Don't sidestep obligations in favor of more desirable activities. You have a lot going for you; so it would be foolish to offset efforts of the past.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Don't undertake anything without knowing proper procedure. Find out how associates think and feel. Excellent progress indicated through alert thinking and action.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Your intuition should be strong now; but double-check to make sure you are not overlooking small details. Thus, all should go well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Pay no attention to dissenters or pessimists. Go about your work and other activities with good will and a bit of finesse. You can have an unusually satisfactory day.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Business and financial matters slated for immediate advancement; also for future gains. But take no risks; conservative management stressed.

Let's Stay Well

High Heels Potentially Harmful

Q: Mrs. B.X. writes that her teenage daughter wants to wear shoes with very high heels. She wants them because most of her girlfriends are wearing such heels. Also, she wants to appear taller.

A: High heels are worn largely for the sake of appearance. They place the feet during weight bearing into an abnormal position (plantar flexion). This position throws much of the body weight forward to the front of the metatarsal bones. These are smaller than the larger bones in the back part of the foot and more subject to injury. The ankle joint is less stable when the heel is elevated to a high position, subjecting the joint to potential sprains.

Often, shoes are narrow and cause pressure and friction on the skin and bones, resulting in corns and later bunions, especially when the foot is pushed forward toward the toes while holding up the body weight.

High heels tilt the pelvis forward, increasing the forward curve of the spine in the small of the back (lumbar region). This curvature requires corresponding changes in the spine, in the chest (forward thrust of the shoulders), and neck regions to compensate for the exaggerated curve in the lumbar region.

While you failed to mention the age of your daughter, her bones will continue to grow since she is a teenager. At her age, she should avoid the possibility of harming her feet and spine by regular use of high heels. If she is to use them, they should be worn only on relatively brief, special occasions.

Anxiety about her lack of height is a separate matter and can best be treated by means other than high heels. It is an everyday fact of life that many persons of short stature are considered beautiful and live comfortable, healthy, happy lives. A certain height is not essential to be attractive, effective and lovable. These features are more apparent when a person is relatively free of anxiety and occupied in an integrated, useful life without being unduly concerned about the height of the heels of her shoes.

The bitter orange was the only kind known in Europe until after 1500 A.D. It was used as a seasoning, not as a fruit.

Inside Report

By Rowland Evans and Robert Novak

Carter's New Friend

WASHINGTON — Political intrigue was added to the last-minute vote search for Senate ratification of the second Panama Canal treaty with the unexpected appearance of Sen. Russell B. Long as Jimmy Carter's new best friend.

As chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Long has been hairshirt No. 1 for the Carter administration through opposition to one Carter program after another. But as the Panama vote neared, Long was much in evidence lobbying for ratification. He was probably decisive in getting a "yes" vote from Sen. S. I. Hayakawa, the eccentric conservative Republican from California.

Suspicious lobbyists immediately concluded Long had a deal with the President over tax legislation in the Finance Committee. The truth, however, is more probably a subtle calculation that helps explain why Long today is the Senate's most influential figure. Opposing Mr. Carter on so much of his economic program, Long wanted to back him on something important but not economic.

Long's vote for the first Panama treaty generated heavy protest back home in Louisiana (where the far right is attempting to recall Long from office). Nevertheless, he returned to Washington after the Easter recess determined to actively support the second treaty.

He did so on the Senate floor but more importantly off the floor. Less than two hours before the vote, Long encountered Hayakawa — undecided but thinking about switching to oppose the treaty. With typical animation, Long began lobbying Hayakawa in public view in the reception room off the Senate floor.

Long next pulled him into the Vice President's ceremonial office nearby to continue the process, then called Vice President Walter F. Mondale off the Senate floor to help out. Together, they finally convinced Hayakawa.

The President clearly owes Long something, but the Senator has told friends there is no deal; he simply felt Mr. Carter could not afford a canal defeat.

However, close associates believe Long wanted to balance the scales a little after opposing Mr. Carter on energy, welfare reform, health insurance and tax reform. Such an unbroken record of anti-Carter positions would not help him either with the President or in the Senate.

A footnote: The second treaty vote was not as close as it looked. Sen. James O. Eastland, the crusty old conservative from Mississippi serving his last year in the Senate, would have given the President a vote if necessary.

PEKING & THE SHAH

President Carter's delay of neutron "bomb" production has encouraged a move by Communist China's increasingly nervous leadership to seek a strange bedfellow: the Shah of Iran.

Peking is showing its desire for some kind of alliance with Teheran in indirect ways — such as sending a top diplomat to Iran with the disingenuous explanation that he just happened to be in that part of the world.

Behind these moves is the Chinese conviction of an irreversible shift in the U.S.-Soviet power balance in Moscow's favor. That conviction was intensified by Mr. Carter's decision to delay producing neutron radiation warheads for the defense of Europe. The impact on Peking was far greater than they have revealed (although Chinese watchers in the State Department accurately predicted that reaction).

China now has intimate relations with Pakistan, a neighbor and diplomatic ally of Iran. Peking's apparent policy against rising Soviet power is to firm up relations with all states that, like China, border the Soviet Union. Iran, well armed with U.S. weapons, is thus a natural object of Peking's affection.

Chinese pleas for greater European military preparedness also are rooted in fear of escalating Soviet power and Western weakness. Peking notes Soviet willingness to exercise power in the Horn of Africa and Angola while the U.S. unilaterally curbs its own weapons development. Coming after cancellation of the B-1 bomber, the neutron warhead decision shocked Peking.

REAGAN ALERT

Ronald Reagan "has never had the urge to run for President as much as he has today" and wants key 1976 backers to "stay loose" until after the 1978 elections.

That word is coming to those supporters from Lyn Nofziger, longtime Reagan political adviser who now runs the Reaganite Citizens For the Republic. Nofziger's quiet message avoids any flat forecast about 1980 but makes it clear Reagan's decision today would be affirmative.

A footnote: One of Reagan's most successful 1976 Midwestern operatives told us that, if Reagan runs, he will again lead Reagan forces in his state. But he reveals some ambivalence by adding: "A lot can happen to the Republican party and to Ronald Reagan in the next year."

Washington Today

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special CorrespondentIs Government
Good As People?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Today's debate question is a beauty: Does the United States have a government as good as its people?

It is raised by the Republican National Committee, which says the answer is no, and counts that as a promise President Carter has not kept.

This judgment turns up in a newly published Republican box score on Carter's campaign promises and his performance in office. Predictably, the Republicans do not think he is doing very well at keeping his commitments.

The 240-page second edition of the Republican effort to keep book on Carter concludes that he has broken about 20 percent of his campaign commitments, kept about 20 percent and that action is still pending on the issues covered by the rest.

The GOP scorekeepers said they set out to produce an objective assessment of Carter's delivery on campaign commitments. He made a lot — 665, according to a White House list issued at the start of the administration.

Even if he had not made any more, he would have had to keep a campaign promise every 2.2 days, seven days a week, in order to get through the list in a four-year term.

The Republicans are keeping book on 636, of which they say 111 have been kept and 113 broken. That is handy political shorthand for them, and while the volume is sure to be widely unread, the conclusions probably will turn up in the campaign speechmaking in the congressional election season just ahead.

Not that an assortment of numbers and percentages purporting to show that Carter has not kept his commitments will be all that persuasive in a congressional or, for that matter, a presidential campaign.

But there is evidence in the public opinion polls that some people are starting to doubt Carter can handle all the problems he said he would.

In a CBS News-New York Times poll, for example, people were asked whether they believe Carter has made progress on several major issues he addressed during the campaign.

Sixty percent said they did not think Carter had made progress toward handling energy problems effectively; 58 percent saw no progress on significantly reducing unemployment; 53 percent saw none toward making the income tax system more fair.

Judgments like that contribute to the declining poll ratings of the way Carter is handling his job. And that is a political problem.

Carter described himself from the beginning of the campaign as a man who could bring competence to government, and who would set clear, attainable national goals.

"As a planner and a businessman, and a chief executive, I know from experience that uncertainty is ... a devastating affliction in private life and in government," he wrote in his campaign autobiography.

The problem persists.

We Place This In Nomination
For The Pothole Of The Week

My nomination for The Pothole of The Week:

You'll hit it at the end of East Maple Street near the railroad and just about in front of Sykes Cafe.

This has got to be the grand-daddy of all potholes left in the wake of winter's rampage. J. D. Rayburn and I were going that way the other day in my old 1967 Valiant. I saw some water in a dip in the street and thoughtlessly headed into it at a pretty good clip, having satisfactorily transacted a little business with Henry Fulton at Murray Lumber Company.

Wham! We thought we had been hit by a train! The car had dropped into that hole with such force it threw old J. D. up against the dash, killed the engine and firmly convinced me that the transmission, oilpan and all the other stuff on the underside of the car had been scattered half-way to Pottertown.

The engine did start right up again and the old Valiant, living up to its name, climbed out of that hole like a tank crawling out of a shell crater, and we eased off to one side to check for damages. All we could find was a badly bent underside that the Chrysler people had thoughtfully put on the car to protect the oilpan, transmission and other parts from just such impacts.

Have you a pothole you would like to place in nomination? Who knows? We just might come up with the Pothole of the Year!

Martha Pitman and Martha Moore were living it up the other night down at the Brass Lantern. W. J. and Ray had taken them out to dinner in observance of their wedding anniversaries. Both couples were married on April 14 — W. J. and Martha 22 years ago, and Martha and Ray 25 years ago.

Seeing them there, corsages, blushes and all, brought to mind the old story about the Oklahoma couple whose home was destroyed in the middle of the night by a tornado. The wind had miraculously picked them up, bed and all, blown them about a mile through the air and gently put them down in the middle of a plowed field.

"I'm not crying because I'm scared," the woman sobbed.

"Then, what's the matter?" the husband wanted to know. "Why are you crying?"

"I'm crying because I'm happy," the woman blurted between sobs.

"You're happy!" exclaimed the husband. "Here, we've been blown half-way across the county, our home is gone and you're crying because you're

"Yes, I'm crying because I'm happy," the woman went on between sobs. "This is the first time in 20 years that we've been out together!"

I get a kick out of the signs they have been putting up lately on the big board out at the Holiday Inn. One day not long ago it read, "The Boss Told Me To Change The Sign and I Did." On another day, it read, "Welcome Bert Reynolds. . . Anytime." Recently and in the wake of John Wayne's heart surgery in Boston, the sign pleaded, "Get Well, John Wayne."

They're attention-getters, and that's what advertising is all about. The quips are brain children of Suzanne Holsclaw, the innkeeper. Suzanne came to town last July to manage the place for its owners — Leon Simon, Myron Hovitz and Bernard Berman, all of Louisville and who, incidentally, also own the Holiday Inn in Mayfield.

IBM And Antitrust

NEW YORK (AP) — The Justice Department antitrust division "wants IBM to bring fewer new products to market and charge higher prices," says Frank Cary, the computer company's chairman.

This position, Cary said at IBM's annual meeting this week, is inherently inflationary and thus in direct opposition to President Carter's goal of greater production and price stability.

Cary's remarks are hardly isolated, fitting instead into a matrix of increased frustration over attempts by the Justice Department, the courts and the Federal Trade Commission to refashion the marketplace.

Eastman Kodak Co. is appealing a federal court verdict involving a claim that Kodak's introduction of new products made obsolete those of smaller companies. It should give warning, the court ruled.

Borden Co. has been told by a Federal Trade Commission judge that it should license other companies to make its highly successful RealLemon product, because that product has such a large share of the market.

The same agency has been arguing that the big cereal makers share an oligopoly because they unfairly compete through a proliferation of brands — sometimes called consumer options — that shut out competitors.

Cary's ire is aroused over the government's antitrust suit, now nine years old, a suit that "has outlasted six attorneys general in three past administrations," a suit in which IBM has yet to begin a defense.

"When you look at the record," he said, "I believe you can come to only one conclusion: 'It's the Antitrust Division, not IBM, that has turned U.S. vs. IBM into the Methusalem of antitrust trials."

The government filed its case January 17, 1969. "For nearly three years they did nothing, until late 1971 — when they fielded a new team of lawyers," said Cary.

IBM insists it isn't a monopoly, a contention that may be debated in view of the fact that monopoly is not clearly established solely by percentages or dollars amounts. But it does seem to have a defense.

"Thirty years ago it (the industry) didn't even exist," Cary said. "Today in the United States it includes more than 4,000 companies," although many are active in only limited segments of the market.

Perhaps more impressive is what Cary next called attention to — that of more than 800 computer companies deposited in the suit, more than 200 entered the so-called monopolized industry since the suit began.

Legal authorities believe monopoly can be demonstrated by proof of retarded technological change, but "Not one computer system IBM manufacturers today was on the market when the suit began," said Cary.

The question that arises, he suggested, is whether the Justice Department would prefer the company make it easier on competitors by limiting technological change and charging higher prices.

"That is what the Division's lawyers and economists are saying," he told shareholders. And then he added the defendant's observation: "We think they are turning the antitrust laws on their head."

Murray Middle Gets Win In Dual Meet Over East

Murray Middle School won a pair of dual track meets Wednesday over East Calloway at the Murray High track.

The Tiger boys won an easy 81-45 meet and there were several fine performances for both teams.

In the long jump, John Frye of Murray soared 18-0 1/2 to turn in one of the best efforts of the season while in the discus, East's Randy Dawson won first with a fine effort of 106-0.

Randy Halley ran away and left everyone in the 100-yard dash as he ran against the wind and won with an 11.5. Another fine performance was turned in by Murray's Todd Rutherford as he took the 60-yard low hurdles in 9.0.

East had two impressive efforts in the mile-run where Craig Robertson won in 5:39.1 and Gene Thurman was second in 5:39.3. Also, the 220-yard dash was run against the wind and Murray's duo of Walter Payne and Randy Halley recorded times of 26.4 and 26.7 respectively, which are outstanding considering the gusts.

In the girls' meet, it was Murray seventh grader Charlotte Shroat giving her usual effort. She ran away with everything and was unchallenged in the three sprint races.

She won the 100-yard dash in 12.0 and ran the entire race against the wind, she took the 220-yard dash in 28.1 and the 440-yard dash in 68.7 and won by almost five seconds.

Stacey Mobley of Murray also had a good day, picking up wins in the shot put and discus. A bit of a surprise for the Tigers came in the 60-yard hurdles where Brenda Conley took first place in 10.5 in a fine effort.

Murray is in the Paducah Junior High Invitational this weekend then the Tiger boys and girls will host Grove at the Murray High track Tuesday. Here are yesterday's results:

Sikma's Jumper Puts Sonics In Driver's Seat, Lead 3-1

By TONY BAKER
AP Sports Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — The noose around the Portland Trail Blazers' neck was cinched a notch tighter Wednesday night.

One more slip by the proud but ailing Blazers and the Seattle SuperSonics will squeeze the defending National Basketball Association champions right out of the playoffs.

Rookie forward Jack Sikma, playing with the savvy and finesse of a veteran, scored Seattle's last seven points, including a baseline jumper with nine seconds left, lifting the Sonics to a wild 100-98 victory over the Blazers and a 3-1 lead in the Western Conference semifinal series.

The Sonics, who won their 16th straight game at home before a Coliseum sellout crowd of 14,098, can win the best-of-seven series with a victory in Game 5 Sunday in Portland.

It was the 6-foot-11 Sikma's fierce rebounding and velvet touch from the field in the final quarter that sent the Blazers tumbling to their second straight loss in Seattle.

"Jack has come through all year long, but this is probably one of his better performances," Seattle Coach Lenny Wilkens said.

Blue & Gold Clippings

Wednesday marked the 15th day of spring football practice at Murray State University.

However, the Racers have been working much longer than 15 days and yesterday's scrimmage may have shown some signs of just how much work they've done.

"We looked a little sluggish on offense," said Racer assistant coach Dino Paparella.

"We've been working since January and the kids looked tired, mostly on the offensive side of the ball. Defensively, we had some people playing pretty well."

"Bobby Craig and Mike Basiak both had good days at their linebacker positions," said Paparella.

The Racers scrimmaged the number one offensive unit against two defense and number two offense against number one defense.

"We worked on our drop-back game which was much more pleasing to the eye as far as pass protection is concerned. Defensively, we stunted a little bit more than we have been."

"We've moved Kris Robbins from middle guard back to his tight end position he played last year and that should strengthen us at tight end," added Paparella.

Jeff Gardner has moved into the middle guard spot, replacing Robbins.

The Racers will spend Friday working on the kicking game then will go through a light scrimmage on Saturday. The Saturday scrimmage will begin at approximately 3 p.m.

The Racers will gear down Monday and Wednesday of next week to be in tip-top shape for the spring game which is set a week from tonight.

Racer Tennis Team Ups Season Record To 22-6

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

The Murray State tennis team defeated two foes Wednesday at Martin. But the Racers only received credit for one win.

"It was a very difficult day to play tennis," MSU coach Bennie Purcell said.

"The wind was blowing about 30 miles per hour and it took a great amount of discipline not to become irritated over the fact that shots we normally hit were missed."

"We had to beat Martin and the wind," Purcell added.

The Racers did both, running their season record to 22-6 with an 8-1 win over the Pacers.

The lone loss for Murray State came at the number one doubles where Ragnar Felix and Tom Lie were upset 6-4 and 7-6 (5-4 tiebreaker) by Skeet Price and Danny Green.

Other than that and a close match at the number two singles, the Racers had little trouble...with the exception of the wind.

In singles play, Ragnar Felix won a 6-1, 7-5 match at one over Skeet Price but at two, Jan Soegaard had to go split sets before finally winning 6-4, 4-6 and 6-3 over Danny Green.

In the rest of the singles, the Racers won in straight sets. At three, Chris Leonard won 6-1, 6-3 over Dennis Chilling; Roger Berthiaume won one and two at four over Mike McCrimmon; Jeff Leeper won 7-5, 6-0 at five over Chris Fessenden; and at six, Tom Lie won 6-2, 6-1 over Jim Spillman.

The other two doubles matches were easy victories for MSU. Soegaard-Berthiaume won 6-3, 6-3 at two over McCrimmon-Fessenden while at three, Leonard-Leeper won 6-2, 6-1 over Chiling-Spillman.

"I feel like we're gaining the momentum at the right time. And this is our eighth consecutive win. But we're going to be facing the toughest weekend of the season Friday and Saturday," Purcell added.

While it may be tough, it should be quite interesting. The Racers will face Middle Tennessee and will try to gain revenge for an earlier loss by taking on the Raiders at 2 p.m. Friday. At the same time, Memphis State will play a tough Eastern Kentucky team.

At approximately 4:30 p.m. Friday on court number one, the feature match of the weekend will take place.

Former Murray High star Mel Purcell, now playing number one for Memphis State, will meet a tough foe in Eastern's Steve Alger.

Saturday will also be a full day of action for tennis fans as the Racers will play both

Paducah Banquet Honors Cage Stars

Frank Gilliam of Murray High and Mina Todd of Calloway County were honored in Paducah Wednesday at the First Region Basketball Banquet.

Gilliam, a senior guard, led the Tigers in scoring this season and was a First-Team, All-Region choice.

Todd, who led the Lady Lakers in scoring and rebounding, is just a sophomore and has two more seasons left to play.

The voting for the All-Region team was done by coaches in the Region.

Drake Relays Next Stop For Racer Track Team

The Murray State University track team will be represented at the prestigious Drake Relays this weekend in Des Moines, Iowa.

Over 5,000 of the top athletes from across the nation will be on hand for the annual event.

Murray will enter two events Friday.

The four by 1,600 meter relay team composed of Jerry Odlin, Martyn Brewer, Dave Rafferty and Pat Chimes could very well have a chance of placing.

Of course, for those not familiar with the metric system, the four by 1,600 meter relay is, in essence, the four-mile relay.

Dave Warren is entered in the invitational 800 meters.

Murray will be entered in one event Saturday and that will be the distance medley relay.

Pat Chimes will lead off the distance medley relay with an 880 leg then Dave Rafferty will follow with the quarter. Martyn Brewer will run the three-quarters and Dave Warren will anchor with the mile.

This will be the final preparation meet of the season as the Racers will open the OVC Track and Field Championships a week from Friday at Middle Tennessee.

Gibbs, Wilson Combine To No-Hit Farmington

The first no-hitter of the season on the local level was thrown Wednesday at Holland Stadium as Alan Gibbs and Kim Wilson combined to blank Farmington in an abbreviated 10-0, five-inning contest.

Gibbs worked the first two innings and fanned three batters while walking one. Wilson pitched the final three frames. He struck out two batters and gave up one pass.

Gibbs was removed because Tiger coach Cary Miller wanted only to get his hard-throwing junior right-hander loosened up for the Fish Fry Tournament in which the Tigers will be playing in at Paris this weekend.

Murray scored four times in the last of the first inning on four consecutive walks. John Denham hit a bases-loaded flyout to score the second run, Dean Cherry singled for the third run and Alan Gibbs had a fielder's choice RBI.

The Tigers added six more runs in the second.

With one man out, Bill Wilson doubled when Bob Thurman and Brad Taylor reached base on an error and walk; in that order. John Denham quickly unloaded the bases with a two-run single for a 6-0 lead.

Dean Cherry, who had a perfect day at the plate with three hits, then singled to drive in another run. The scoring ended when with the bases loaded, Alan Gibbs singled for an RBI. The ball got past the Farmington centerfielder and two more runs scored, making it 10-0. Gibbs wound up on third.

Murray put runners on at second and third in each of the third and fourth innings but the Tigers did not score again.

Murray High coach Cary Miller used 18 players in the contest.

The Tigers host Marshall

County to a 4 p.m. contest today then will meet Camden at 1 p.m. Friday at McNeil Field in Paris to kick off the Fish Fry Tournament.

If the Tigers win Friday, they would play Saturday for the Fish Fry title.

Murray will carry in impressive 8-1 record into today's game with the Marshals, who the Tigers have already twice defeated this season.

Cornells Married One Day And On Plane For States Next Day

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Bill Cornell was on top of the world at the age of 17.

Already, such American universities as Oregon, Southern Cal and Villanova were offering him scholarships.

But, Cornell felt he was still too young to leave his native country. And of course, he was beginning to get rather serious over Rose.

Shortly after he sat the world record mile for 17-year-olds, one of the two pitfalls in his life came about.

"I've always been successful. But there have been two times in my life when I reached lows. One was last year when my track team was seventh out of eight in the Ohio Valley Conference meet. The other was when I was about 17½," Cornell said.

"I came down with a bad bout of influenza and had three attacks in a row. Each time, I tried to make it back too fast and I weakened myself.

"The newspapers were saying I was having nerve problems. They didn't realize what the real problem was. They became very negative and said I was finished as a runner and that I'd peaked out.

day, Lew Hartzog at SIU sent me a letter and offered me a four-year scholarship.

"The people in the top management positions with the manufacturing company were fairly young. I had matured quite a bit and I decided at that point I would like to continue my education. So I had to decide between leaving England or staying there and trying to give pro soccer a shot.

"I was really surprised by Hartzog's offer because I hadn't been running for three and one-half years. He gave me two and one-half weeks to decide."

The decision came quickly. Cornell called Hartzog and said he and his bride-to-be would be coming to SIU.

On April 1, 1961, Bill Cornell and Rose Whiffin were married. The next day, they were on a plane and when they arrived in Carbondale, were greeted by two and one-half feet of snow.

On April 3, Bill Cornell was starting a new quarter at SIU and sitting in a classroom.

Rose had been promised a job upon her arrival. She didn't get it until two months later.

The newlyweds lived in the basement of Hartzog's Carbondale home. They stayed there until they finally found an apartment, which is a monumental task in Carbondale.

"I trained for two weeks in England before I came over then I had two weeks training at SIU before my first time trial. SIU had two other Englishmen. They had a 4:01 miler named Mike Wiggs and a 4:04 miler named Brian Turner and both were about two years older than me.

"The time trial was so well publicized that there were 4,000 people in the stands to watch. Jim Dupree was at SIU and he was the best half-miler in the country.

"In that time trial, I finished second to Dupree and had a 1:51.9 which was my best ever. Two weeks later in New Mexico, I ran the mile at 6,000 feet elevation and was third in 4:10.5.

"Those performances hurt me like hell physically but I knew I was on the way back."

By August of 1961, Cornell was down to 133 pounds. When he came to Carbondale in April, he weighed 155.

"I was running 10 miles a day by August in all that heat and I also started a weight training program. I was very confident I'd do well the following year."

Rose landed her first job in June, working as a receptionist in a doctor's office. But the language barrier was such a problem for her she quit the position.

"People couldn't understand my English accent and I couldn't understand what they were saying," Rose said.

She took a test for a university job and in August, received a position in the public information department at SIU.

She even worked in the sports information department, writing releases on Saluki athletes. She quickly became one of the most popular women on campus as both her and her husband were becoming the sweethearts of SIU.

To this day, the Cornells still receive cards at Christmas from the people in the SIU public information office.

Seaver Shelled, Reds Lose 14-4 To Dodgers

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Tom Seaver is still 0-for-April.

The former Cy Young Award winner made his fifth start of the season for Cincinnati Wednesday night and was pummeled for eight hits and five earned runs in four innings as the Los Angeles Dodgers whipped the Reds 14-4.

Seaver has three no-decisions and two losses to show for his 1978 efforts, plus a nice round earned run average of 5.00.

When newsmen tried to ask him about his pitching problems in the clubhouse after the game, Seaver was nowhere to be found.

"He left before the game ended — and he left in a hurry," a team employee said.

Elsewhere in the National League, the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Montreal Expos 12-2, the Chicago Cubs defeated the Philadelphia Phillies 4-2, the Pittsburgh Pirates trimmed the New York Mets 1-0, the San Diego Padres edged the Houston Astros 2-1 and the Atlanta Braves beat the San Francisco Giants 6-1.

Dusty Baker had five hits, three of them doubles, and Bill Russell had four hits to lead Los Angeles' 19-hit barrage. Doug Ray, 3-0, was the winning pitcher.

It was the Dodgers' third win in a row over the Reds after Cincinnati had won the teams' first two meetings.

The Dodgers now lead second-place Cincinnati by 1½ games in the National League West.

Cards 12, Expos 2

The Cards pounded 19 hits in their first game under interim Manager Jack Krol. Keith Hernandez had a double and three singles, driving in two runs and scoring three, while Ken Reitz belted his second home run of the season and a single and drove in three runs for the Cards. Jim Dwyer also homered for St. Louis while Lou Brock had three hits.

Cubs 4, Phils 2

Bobby Murcer's grand slam homer in the third inning lifted Chicago and Rick Reuschel past Philadelphia and Steve Carlton in a matchup of 1977 20-game winners. All four runs were unearned following a twoout error by the Phils' Dave Johnson. The other two runners had reached base on walks.

Pirates 1, Mets 0
Ed Ott's first home run of the season broke up a scoreless tie in the 11th inning and gave Pittsburgh's Bert Blyleven his first National League victory. Ott's homer leading off the 11th against reliever Bob Myrick was only the fourth hit of the game for the Pirates.

Braves 6, Giants 1
Dale Murphy led Atlanta past San Francisco with three runs batted in on a triple and a single. Jeff Burroughs had two hits to extend his hitting streak to eight straight times at bat — just two short of the National League record — before it was broken in the seventh.

Padres 2, Astros 1
Gaylord Perry and Rollie Fingers combined to limit Houston to seven hits. Perry struck out four and walked one but needed Fingers to get the final out of the game after Bob Watson had doubled and Joe Ferguson had singled for the Astros' only run. Fingers retired pinch hitter Wilbur Howard on a fly ball to end the game.

Rev. Paul Hetrick Speaker At Locust Grove On Sunday

The Rev. Paul Hetrick will be the special speaker at the 10:45 a.m. worship services on Sunday, April 30, at the Locust Grove Church of the Nazarene, located north of Kirksey just off Highway 299.

The guest speaker grew up in Swaziland, Africa, as the son of missionaries there. He returned to the United States for his B. S. degree at Trevecca Nazarene College and his M. A. from Scarritt College. He is a licensed pilot and his wife is a registered nurse.

Rev. Hetrick returned to Africa in 1967 where he spent ten years as a missionary and a teacher and administrative worker at the Swaziland Bible College in Sitekil.

Sunday School will be held at 9:45 a.m. The public is invited to attend the services at Locust Grove, a church spokesman said.

Several inmates now have filed motions in federal court at Paducah asking that Bordenkircher and Corrections Commissioner David Bland be held in contempt of the 1973 ruling and that a temporary restraining order be issued to reverse the present mail policy.

The new regulations ban obscene material, which is determined by Bordenkircher based on his interpretation of state law and "community standards."

"The big hangup on mail is two-fold," Bordenkircher said. "One, what is obscene, what is explicit sexual activity?"

"I can answer that as warden of this institution very simply," Bordenkircher said. "I can show you samples of what I have confiscated and if you print those then I'm obviously wrong."

Bordenkircher agreed that the obscenity issue "has been somewhat centered on magazines such as Playboy and Hustler" — magazines which once were sold in the prison canteen.

"If we get a box of say, Hustler magazines, I'll pull one out and take a look at it. If it depicts any of the so-called acts as described in KRS 531 (the state obscenity statute) I'll reject the whole box," Bordenkircher added.

"Does the warden have the authority to do that, to set those standards? I think I do," Bordenkircher said. "I'm the mayor of this city. Based on my discussions with several grand juries — and believe me they don't like this one bit — I believe I have invoked the community standards."

The new mail policy states that inmates will be given notice and the chance to protest any rejection of incoming or outgoing mail, but inmates contend that portion of the rules is not strictly followed.

"Letters come in from the outside by the hundreds and are summarily rejected without the inmate being notified," said John Brenton Preston, an inmate who filed the original 1973 suit concerning mail. "Under the 1973 ruling, the principal thing the superintendent cannot do is tamper or interfere with outgoing mail. Bordenkircher is in complete and total violation of this ruling."

Privileged mail, or correspondence between inmates and attorneys, courts or government officials, is opened in the prisoner's presence and inspected for contraband, Bordenkircher said.

The state is expected to respond within the next week to motions filed in federal court by Preston and at least five other inmates seeking an end to the mail policy. No hearing date on the matter had been set as of Wednesday.

Another mail complaint of inmates is that the new policy also requires them to list their return address in a precise form that includes the cellblock and cell number and the words: Kentucky State Penitentiary. The former mailing address for inmates was an Eddyville Post Office box number.

Bordenkircher says the new address is aimed at protecting inmates from "ripoff artists" as well as keeping inmates from ordering goods through the mail from sellers who are unaware they are dealing with a customer in jail.

Fines. . . (Continued From Page One)

After June 19, motorists cited for such violations would pay $25 plus court costs of $27.50 for a total fine of $52.50, he said.

Motorists cited for speeding violations also face a $15 increase for speeds from 6 miles to 25 miles over the legal limit.

A motorist cited for speeding up to five miles over the limit would continue to pay the existing $1 per mile fine, plus court costs.

Motorists have the option of prepaying speeding tickets, thereby cutting $10 off the $27.50 court costs.

Other traffic law violators also have the option of prepaying rather than going to trial on all but a few traffic violations, but the prepayment doesn't reduce court costs in those cases.

A citation for driving 60 miles per hour in a 55 m.p.h. zone would carry a fine of $5 plus court costs. If prepaid that would total $22.50. If not prepaid it would be $32.50. There is no change from existing law.

A citation for driving 75 in a 55 zone would carry a fine of $45, an increase of $15 over existing fines, plus court costs. Again, prepayment reduces court costs by $10.

A citation for driving at speeds more than 25 miles over the speed limit, or more than 75 m.p.h. requires the motorist to appear in court, and conviction carries a fine ranging from $50 to $100, at the discretion of the judge.

A citation for careless driving carries a fine of $25, a $15 increase over the existing fine, plus court costs of $27.50. Prepayment does not reduce court costs.

Originally the extra $15 was to go into a special trust and agency fund to pay for the police incentives, but critics charged that it would encourage a bounty system, where officers would make arrests simply to ensure that the fund stayed at a certain level.

Since the money now goes into the General Fund, Thurman said there should be no reason for police to step up arrests.

He said there has been a lot of misunderstanding and confusion over how much fines will increase.

LIONS CLUB — Past presidents of the Murray Lions Club were honored by the club at the meeting held April 25 at the Murray Woman's Club House. Yancey Watkins, president, presented each past president with a plaque in a ceremony conducted by G. T. Lilly, vice-president, recognizing the service rendered to the club and community by each one. "HEY, THAT'S MY DODGE."

78 Dodge Diplomat Medallion four-door.

You sure hear that a lot lately. Seems a lot of people are finding that Dodge has just the car they're looking for. Like Diplomat. The manageably sized car that's manageably priced, too. And loaded with luxury. There's luxury you can see. In Diplomat's clean, sculptured lines. And handsome interior appointments. Luxury you can feel. Diplomat is trim, yet under way it feels like a big car. . . smooth and assured.

Positions Open On KHSW Directing Board

Ten positions on the Board of Directors of Kentucky Health Systems Agency - West (KHSW) are open and the organization is soliciting nominations of persons from Western Kentucky to fill these positions.

"We want the people of western Kentucky to be involved in deciding what kind of health care they should receive," said Callaway County Judge-Executive Robert O. Miller, president of the board.

KHSW is the regional health planning agency for the 49 counties in western Kentucky. The agency is governed by a 30-member Board of Directors composed of consumers and providers of health care. Any resident of western Kentucky age 18 or older is eligible for membership on the Board.

Board members represent the six western Kentucky subareas - Purchase, Pennyrile, Green River, Barren River, Lincoln Trail and Falls Region. Board members must represent the full range of social, economic, racial and linguistic groups in the region.

The deadline for nominations is April 24. Nominations should include the name and address of the nominee and state whether the person is a consumer or a provider. Nominations should be mailed to Kentucky Health Systems Agency - West, Suite 401, 1941 Bishop Lane, Louisville, Kentucky 40218. Board members will be elected for each subarea by the subarea Health Advisory Councils. New members will be seated at the KHSW annual meeting in June. Board members are elected for a three year term.

Western Kentucky residents are also invited to become members of Kentucky Health Systems Agency - West. Information about the agency and membership can be had by writing or phoning (502) 456-6460.

Biological Station On Lake To Offer Variety Of Summer Courses

Courses in beekeeping, water and microorganisms, edible and medicinal wild plants, birdwatching, and riverine appreciation will be offered this summer by Murray State University at the Hancock Biological Station on Kentucky Lake.

Dr. Donald Johnson, professor of biological sciences at Murray State and station director, said the courses are part of a summer program of 14 courses in freshwater and terrestrial biology at the station. Two sessions of four-week classes are available — June 12-July 7 and July 10-Aug. 4.

He noted that some of the courses are of general interest, while others are of a more specialized nature. Nine courses will be offered during the first session from June 12 through July 7. They include:

Biology 130, Beekeeping, to be taught by Dr. Alfred Wolfson, Murray State professor emeritus, from 1 to 5 p.m. on Wednesdays for one semester hour of credit.

Biology 405, Water and Microorganisms, to be taught by Dr. Walter Kalisz of Ball State University from 1 to 5 p.m. on Wednesdays for one semester hour of credit.

Biology 488, Freshwater Biology, to be taught by Dr. Kalisz from 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. each weekday except Wednesday for four semester hours of credit.

Biology 521, Developmental Biology of Freshwater Forms, to be taught by Dr. Nancy Wolfson of Duke University from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. each weekday except Wednesdays for four semester hours of credit.

The second summer session at the station from July 10 through Aug. 4 will include the following courses:

Biology 125, Edible and Medicinal Wild Plants, to be taught by Dr. Alfred Wolfson from 10:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. on Wednesdays for one semester hour of credit.

Biology 131, Birdwatching, to be taught by Dr. Clell Peterson of Murray State from 6:30 to 10:30 a.m. on Wednesdays for one semester hour of credit.

Biology 587, Riverine Appreciation, to be taught by Dr. Padgett Kelley of Mississippi State University from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursdays and Fridays for two semester hours of credit. Offered through Bethel College, McKenzie, Tenn., the course includes canoeing and camping the Buffalo River in Tennessee.

Rural Fire Departments Can Receive State Matching Grants

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Rural fire departments in Kentucky can now receive matching grants from the state to

Dale Leys' Drawing

Accepted For Show

Dale Leys, assistant professor of art at Murray State University, has had a drawing accepted in the 24th annual Drawing and Small Sculpture Show at Ball State University in Muncie, Ind.

His work, entitled "Passage I," is a small silver-point, mixed-media piece. To run May 7-June 25, the show is made up of work from across the country. It was juried by E. F. Sanguinette, director of the Utah Museum of Fine Arts in Salt Lake City.

Leys joined the faculty at Murray State in the fall of 1977.

purchase everything from radios to respirators.

The grants, administered by the Division of Forestry, are offered to small rural fire departments for purchasing fire fighting equipment and to help finance fire training programs, according to Elmore Grim, director of the Division of Forestry.

Since the grants are on a 50-50 matching basis, fire departments must match them dollar-for-dollar with their own monies or from revenue sharing monies in their communities.

The grants are available to communities under 10,000 population. The only other qualification for receiving the grants is that a rural department must answer all calls within its prescribed area, according to Grim.

Last year 235 fire departments received grants for purchasing equipment, and $59,400 is available this year.

The deadline for applying for the matching grants is May 30.

For additional information and application blanks, interested rural fire departments should contact Elmore C. Grim, Director, Division of Forestry, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

BETTER HEARING AND SPEECH DAY. — Murray Mayor Melvin Henley is shown inking a proclamation declaring May 4 at Better Hearing and Speech Day in Murray. Rhonda Platt, left, a Murray State University student in the MSU Speech and Hearing Association, and Betty Blodgett, clinic coordinator for special education at MSU stand behind Henley. Henley's proclamation commended "the humanitarian and rehabilitative services rendered by speech language pathologists and audiologists throughout the city to our communicatively impaired citizens." In conjunction with the May 4 observation, Murray State special education department plans an open house in the special education building on 16th Street with free hearing tests, a tour of the facility and refreshments planned. The open house will be from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. that day.

Business Department Advisory Committee To Advise Programs

An advisory committee has been organized by the Department of Business Education and Administrative Management at Murray State University to assist in setting goals and evaluating content of business teacher education programs.

John English, manager of the South Central Bell office in Paducah, was elected chairman of the eight-member committee in a recent orientation meeting on the campus. Other committee members are:

Douglas C. Garner, director of executive development with the Cain-Sloan Company in Nashville; Henry Hodges, executive director of the Purchase Area Development District in Mayfield; Keith Rogers, president of Central Bank and Trust of Owensboro; James Sanders of Commercial Credit in Paducah; E. R. Cross, manager of the F. W. Woolworth Company store in Hopkinsville; Jack W. Kuhn, Jr., assistant personnel manager of Kuhn's Big K Stores Corporation in Nashville; and Grace Thomas, employee counselor in the Kentucky Department of Human Resources office in Mayfield.

Dr. Jules Harcourt, chairman of the Department of Business Education and Administrative Management at Murray State, said the committee is being asked to provide guidance in two specific areas — office education and distributive education.

"We are concerned with two major directions," he added, "developing necessary skills and training graduates to go into the high schools to teach business and distributive education to their students."

Harcourt was assisted in organizing the committee by Dr. David Eldredge, dean of the College of Business and Public Affairs, and Dr. Alberta Chapman, coordinator of distributive education on the campus.

VICA CLUB WINNERS — Representing the Murray VICA Club at the Kentucky VICA Skills Olympics held April 20 and 21 at London were, left to right, Jerry Falwell, appliance repair teacher; Earl Hicks, carpentry contestant; Steve Baker, appliance repair contestant; Mike Duncan, who won third place as auto body contestant; and Gail Dick, who won third place as practical nursing contestant. James Lawson, coordinator for the Murray Area Vocational Educational Center, accompanied the group to London.

Calloway County High Student Wins Statewide Poster Contest

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Four western Kentucky young people are among 17 state winners of the 1978 Poster and "Ability Counts" Survey Contest. In the poster competition, Vicki Young of Ohio County High School won third place and Todd Jacobs of Ft. Campbell High School won fourth place. In the survey contest, Gail Tucker of Calloway County High School and Terry Holmes of South Hopkins High School both won Honorable Mention.

Certificates of merit as well as monetary awards will be presented during the next four weeks by the local offices of the Bureau for Manpower Services of the Department for Human Resources.

The annual contest is sponsored by the Kentucky Committee on Employment of the Handicapped in conjunction with national efforts of the President's Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

"The event, which is designed to educate youth about their handicapped neighbors, attracts some 4,000 Kentucky high school juniors and seniors each year," said Mary Louise Sandman, Executive Secretary of the Kentucky Committee on Employment of the Handicapped.

Poster awards go to the creators of the most original posters dealing with the theme "Hire The Handicapped." The survey awards go to those competitors who write the best essays about handicapped people after having talked to employers in their community.

Young Kentucky talent has captured national recognition during the past five years. Last May, Debbie Hertz from Ohio County High School was presented the first place national poster award by First Lady Rosalyn Carter in Washington at the annual meeting of the President's Committee. In 1974 Robert Shipp from North Hardin High School won third place in the national "Ability Counts" Survey Contest, and in 1973 Kentucky student Timothy Scott from Lewis County High School received the first place award in the national poster contest.

Three good reasons to buy a Boston Whaler.

We sawed this Boston Whaler into three pieces to prove to you Boston Whalers don't sink.

The reason is our unique foam sandwich construction. This means our hull is actually a solid block of foam in a fiberglass skin. It's so strong we offer a 10 year structural warranty on every hull.

To find out the many other reasons why you should own a Boston Whaler, see them at:

Governor Carroll

Has Made Four Vacation Trips

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Julian Carroll has made four vacation trips in the past 16 months to a secluded Bahamian development owned by a wealthy Madisonville businessman and the state's chief executive flew in a state plane all or part of the way on all the trips, his office has confirmed.

In a copyrighted story appearing in its Thursday edition, the Louisville Courier-Journal reported the latest trip made by the governor to the Bahamian retreat cost $10,000, based on the $400-an-hour interagency charge for the plane's use.

The governor's office was quoted by the newspaper as stating that Carroll paid for only one of three condominiums occupied by the governor and his party on his latest trip to the Mariner's Cove development on Treasure Cay.

The cost of the two condominiums that rent for $100 a day was absorbed by Madisonville businessman Otto Corum, deputy press secretary Gary Auxier said.

Methodist Youth Will

Hold Meeting Thursday

The United Methodist Youth of the Murray Sub-District will meet Thursday, April 27, at seven p. m. at the Murray First Church.

The Rev. Dr. James Fisher will present slides from his tour to Jerusalem and The Holy Lands.

All Methodist Youth from the Murray Area are invited to attend the program meeting, a spokesman said.
